12. Your strengths as a candidate (up to 100 words)

Growing up in a remote, traditional village in Arunachal, I was shaped by challenges that instilled resilience, hard work, and a deep-rooted sense of perseverance. As the first in my family and village to receive higher education, I take pride in being self-made. My strengths lie in unwavering determination, commitment, and a strong work ethic. As a NAAC assessor, I've gained national exposure and insights into academic excellence. My journey includes leadership as a student activist and founding Secretary General of a regional political party (PPA), equipping me with organizational, administrative, and people management skills. With 15 years of leadership as Director of CDOE, RGU and one term as HoD, History, RGU. I also have international exposure through academic-related travel to various countries. These include Syria and Kuwait as a member of the Indo-Syrian Cultural Exchange Programme; Brazil for a UN-related activity; and the UK, France, Spain, Germany, and Switzerland as part of the Unsung Hero Project. I bring substantial experience in academic planning, innovation, and administration with both national and international level exposure.

13. Your Vision for the University (up to 500 words)
