Guidelines for Promotion and Academic Progression

1. A candidate will be promoted to the next semester provided:
  - (a) Passes at least 50% of the Major and Minor Papers taken together and
  - (b) Earned a minimum of 45% of the total credits required for the semester.
2. Absent and Failure in Practical Component:
  - (a) An eligible student who absents from the examination of a specific course (paper) or component (theory/practical) shall be deemed to have failed that course (paper) or component, respectively.
  - (b) A student who failed the practical component of a course (paper) is deemed to have failed that component only of the course (paper) and is required to reappear for that component in the subsequent examination.
  - (c) Such students shall be eligible for promotion to the next semester, subject to the fulfilment of all other requirements specified in clause (1).
3. A student who fails in any semester, including the first semester, is not required to readmit in the same semester. Such students shall be treated as year-back students.
4. The year-back students will have to submit their willingness to continue the programme by submitting a willingness form with a deposit of the continuation fee.
5. The year-back students need not be required to attend the regular classes.
6. Such students will retain the credits they have already earned in the semester (in which they have failed) and will have to appear only in those courses (papers) which they could not clear in their earlier attempt(s).
7. The student must appear for the failed course(s) in the regular examination conducted in the corresponding semester of the following academic year.
8. If the student meets the promotion criteria as specified in Clause (1), he/she shall be promoted to the next semester and continue the programme with the next/subsequent batch.
9. A student must complete all the courses of the programme he/she has enrolled within the specified time frame as follows:
  - (a) Three-Year /Four-Year Undergraduate Programme: within seven years
  - (b) Two-Year Post-Graduate Programme: within five years
  - (c) One-Year Post Graduate Programme: with three years
