

Brief Report
Of
ICSSR – NERC sponsored 3 Days Workshop
On “Gender Issues and Gender Sensitive Teaching Strategies for Private Elementary School Teachers of Papumpare District, Arunachal Pradesh” held from 27th – 29th April 2019
Organized by:
Dept of Education, Rajiv Gandhi University

A three day ICSSR- NERC sponsored workshop on “Gender issues and Gender sensitive teaching strategies for private elementary school teachers of Papumpare district of Arunachal Pradesh” was held during April 27 – April 29, 2019 at AITS conference hall, Rajiv Gandhi university campus, Rono Hills, Doimukh. Department of Education, the biggest department of the university hosted the event. The objectives of the workshop were to sensitize the private elementary school teachers of Papumpare district about conceptual framework of sex and gender, various gender issues (India, North-East region and Arunachal Pradesh), its causes, impacts and existing laws relating to gender violence and about gender sensitive teaching strategies at elementary level of education. Therefore, the thrust areas of the workshop constituted of conceptual framework of sex and gender, status of women in the society at international, national and regional/state level, gender issues and its causes and impacts, existing laws relating to gender violence and gender sensitive teaching strategies at elementary level. The target group for the workshop was 20 private elementary stage teachers from eight schools namely were Mahrishi Vidya Mandir, Zion Mission School and Saint Thomas Residential School from Doimukh, Children Training School, Saint Samuel International School and New Galaxy Academy from Nirjuli, Good Shepherd Public School from Naharlagun and King Cup from Itanagar. There were in all 15 technical sessions, five each day, and 13 resource persons from various departments of university and outside the university tried their best in dispelling the misconception of society based gender inequality existing in our mind through their lectures and by conducting various activities like role playing, role reversal critical evaluation the content that we read in text books, magazines and news papers. Besides they have also provided suggestions to remove gender inequality from the society.

Inaugural Session, from left on chairs Prof. R. Taba, Dean Faculty of Education, RGU, Prof. Saket Kushwaha, VC, RGU, Prof. T. Riba, Registrar, RGU and Prof. E. Hangsing, HoD, Dept. of Education, RGU

Participants with Registrar RGU, Dean Dept. of Education, Dean DSW and Co-coordinators of the Workshop

Participants preparing a strategy for the Role Play

Honourable Vice Chancellor

Prof. Saket Kushwaha

Inaugural Address

Honourable Registrar

Prof. Tomo Riba

Inaugural Address

Honourable VC and Registrar, RGU
(Felicitation Ceremony)

Prof. Rachob Taba, Dean of Education Addressing the Gathering

Prof. P K Acharya
Welcome Address

Ms. Manju Barman
Hosting the Event

Dr. Tayum Saroh

Presenting Vote of Thanks

Dr. Anga Padu

Presenting Design and Structure of Workshop

Participants

Participants having Lunch

Participants performing Activity

Participants performing Activity

Prof. Tomo Riba, Registrar

Prof. R. Taba, Dean Education

Prof. Kesang Degi, DSW

Mr. Narender Singh

Presenting Report of the Workshop

Valedictory Session

Prof. Tomo Riba, Registrar RGU

Valedictory Address

Prof. Tomo Riba, Registrar RGU

Distributing Certificates

Prof. R. Taba, Dean Education

Distributing Certificates

Prof. Kesang Degi, DSW

Distributing Certificates

Group Photo
Participants with
Registrar, Dean (Education)
Dean (DSW) and Coordinators

Dr. Anga Padu
Vote of Thanks
Valedictory Session