

Purvottar Bharat Ki Janjatiyon Ka Darshan Evam Sanskriti

The national seminar was held on 15-16 November, 2018. On this occasion, Dr. Balmukund Pandey, Secretary, National Organization of Indian History Collection Scheme delivered the key note address. The Vice-Chancellor of Rajiv Gandhi University, Prof. Saket Kushwaha, who presided over the inaugural session, said that his attachment to nature is unmatched in tribal society. There is a plurality of tribes in the Northeast. Despite this, collectivity and coherence is abundant. He opined that the research needs to be done in the philosophy and culture of the Arunachal Pradesh. Speaking as the chief guest of the program, former Vice Chancellor of Rajiv

Gandhi University, Prof. Tamo Mibang said that the work we have done has left the mark in the history. The history of tribal culture and philosophy is old, but today, it is the condition of the languages, culture and the geographical scenario is needed to be the centre of the research.
