Master of Arts in Social Work (MASW) at a Glance

The Department of Social Work (DSW) at Rajiv Gandhi University was established in 2015 in the land of rising sun with the aim of providing quality Social Work Education. DSW at RGU is the first full-fledged Department of Social Work offering face-to-face Master of Arts in Social Work (MASW) programme in Arunachal Pradesh. Social Work Education has two very important components vis-à-vis Theory (Class Room Lectures) and Practice (Social Work Practicum). In fact, Social Work Practicum is considered as the Soul of Social Work Education. Social Work is practice based profession like other professions such as medicine and law etc. Students develop the theoretical understanding received in the classroom and practice it in the field at the individual, group and community level. Subsequently, teaching-learning process started in the DSW by admitting 16 students in the first batch (2015-17) of MASW programme. The two years MASW Programme is based on Choice Based Credit System (CBCS). DSW is committed to provide quality education and to ensure the quality the DSW offers all seven components of Social Work Practicum from its very first batch.

Candidates for MASW are selected through a rigorous three tier selection procedure that consists of Written Examination, Group Discussion (GD) and Personal Interview (PI). The uniquely designed MASW curriculum with extensive field work, projects, presentations, report writing transforms the talented students into responsible professional social workers. The impetus of social work education in the University is to capacitate the students so that they make an impact in the lives of the people especially the underprivileged and disempowered communities in the state of Arunachal Pradesh and the north eastern region. Therefore, the pedagogy is structured in such a manner that the issues and concerns of the region are addressed and students are engaged actively in the field to become sensitized in creating a socially just and equal society through their contribution.

“A Hand to Hold and a Heart to Understand is Hallmark of Social Work”

With immense pleasure and pride, I invite you for the Campus Recruitment process for the year 2018-19 to interact, examine and witness a batch of enthusiastic, vibrant, energetic, and professionally competent students from Department of Social Work, Rajiv Gandhi (Central) University. As a professional course, the two-year Masters Program in Social Work (MSW) equips students to acquire an intensive grounding in theory and practicum. The course curriculum that we impart is an electric mix of core courses and optional courses. It has been our endeavor to upgrade our courses on a consistent basis in order that we impart among our budding professionals an updated knowledge base to facilitate their Knowledge, Skills and Attitude. With our emphasis on Attitude formation for the cause of Social Development simulation exercises and reflective learning have been carefully designed. We make every attempt to ensure a continuous process of Unlearning and Learning. The reflective learning process incorporates seven different components of Field Work Including Orientation Programme, Concurrent Field Practicum, Rural Camp, Block Field Work, Inter Agency Meet, Study Tour and Internship respectively. For the purpose of Concurrent Field Work, the students are exposed to two days in a week for practical exposure(s) to various agencies and communities. It helps in integrating the theoretical pedagogy with the dynamic nature of pragmatic reality (ies). They get opportunities to inculcate social work skills, techniques, competencies, positive attitudes, values and ethics as per their jurisdiction in the real life situations.

The department has climbed the ladder to success in a short span since its inception (2015) and successfully produced the social work professionals who are contributing towards the welfare and development of people. In a span of three years we have nearly ensured 100 percent job placements of our trainees with many of them clearing national level exams like UGC NET and JRF in Social Work. The recruiters so far include national and international organizations, corporate sector, people's movements and grass roots organization and over the years we have been receiving comforting feedback about our students. On behalf of the department I extend a warm invitation to you and your organization to participate in the placements process this year.

THE ORIENTATION

The orientation programme is aimed at providing appropriate direction to professional learning. It involves familiarizing students with the problems of society, especially issues of marginalization and exclusion as also examining the resource base available for mobilizing them to initiate work in the field. The orientation programme is of five days duration for both MSW 1st and 3rd Semester Students.

CONCURRENT FIELD WORK

The field work practice in the first semester consists of orientation visits, lab sessions for skill training and placement. In the first semester, the focus of the field work is the community. The students are placed in communities and in those service settings where they can be exposed to the community and community issues. The students get a close feel of the community and the community settings, understand the dynamics and issues of the community and become aware of the sensitiveness of people while working with them. They also get an actual experience of the programmes and projects implemented in the communities by NGOs and government agencies and the impact that these have on the community. They also interact with the agency personnel and the community members to understand the tension between tradition and change that the communities in the region are likely to experience, and how it is handled. They, with the help of the agency and the field work supervisor, identify an issue and work on it following the principles of community organization. The students are expected to be creative and innovative in assisting the agency and community in whatever way possible.

Normally, a student spends sixteen hours over two days per week in field work. The supervisor conducts individual and group field work conferences regularly.

The student maintains a daily/weekly report which is shared with supervisor at IC/GC. At the end of the semester the students submit summary report for the semester and viva voice is conducted.
