PART 1: PREFACE

1.1 The University

Rajiv Gandhi University (formerly Arunachal University) is the premier institution for higher education in the state of Arunachal Pradesh located at the picturesque tabloid of Rono Hills approximately 25 km away from the state capital Itanagar. Late Smt. Indira Gandhi, the then Prime Minister of India, laid the foundation stone of the University on 4th February 1984 at Rono Hills. Ever since its inception, the University has been trying to achieve excellence and fulfill the objectives as envisaged in the University Act. The University was recognized as a Central University in the year 2007 established under the Act of Parliament. Being the only Central University of the State at present there are Twenty Six (26) Departments and Two (02) Institutes functioning under Nine (09) Academic Faculties. The Faculty members have been actively engaged in research activities. The University has been maintaining its academic excellence and individuals from its alumni group are contributing at significant positions not only in State and Central Government Services, but also in various Institutions, Industries and Organizations. The University has continuously maintained its premier status among top hundred (100) educational institutions in NIRF ranking across India.

About the Department of Psychology

The Department of Psychology was established in the year 2017 with two Assistant Professors. Currently the Department is running with four Assistant Professors and 3 Guest Assistant Professors.

Vision: The Department was set up to develop an awareness of the importance of studying human behaviour and the societal relevance of psychology. The Department offers M.A. Psychology which is of four semesters and the curriculum is so designed as to provide strong theoretical, methodological and contemporary knowledge of various areas of Psychology to the students. The purpose is to equip the students with knowledge, skills and values to become effective and competent professional psychologists. During the course, the students are taken for field visit at mental health centres and counselling cells besides interactive classroom teaching and laboratory training. Time to time extended lectures from experts in relevant field is also conducted. This academic training enables the students to work in a broad range of settings such as medical, organization, counselling centres, NGOs, researchers and academicians. The department has also started offering PhD programme with 4 Research Scholars from the academic session of 2021.

1.2 Sponsoring Agency

The Program was sponsored by the Rajiv Gandhi University.

1.3 Background

Education is fundamental for achieving full human potential, developing an equitable and just society, and promoting national development. Universal high-quality education is the best way forward for developing and maximizing our country's rich talents and resources for the good of the individual, the society, the country, and the world. India will have the highest population of young people in the world over the next decade, and our ability to provide high-quality educational opportunities to them will determine the future of our country. The entire education system is currently being reconfigured to support and foster learning, in order to achieve the critical targets and goals (SDGs) of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.

The New Education Policy lays particular emphasis on the development of the creative potential of each individual. It is based on the principle that education must develop not only cognitive capacities - both the 'foundational capacities' of literacy and numeracy and 'higher-order' cognitive capacities, such as critical thinking and problem solving – but also social, ethical, and emotional capacities and dispositions.

In addition, the growing emergence of epidemics and pandemics also calls for collaborative research in infectious disease management and development of vaccines and the resultant social issues heightens the need for multidisciplinary learning. There is a growing demand for humanities and art to meet the local and global need of the country, as India moves towards becoming a developed country as well as among the three largest economies in the world.

Therefore conduction of such webinar, is urgent need of the hour to acquaint the people in general and the students in particular about the various objectives, critical purposes of the integrated policy. It would also help assist the students to make the most of the NEP, both from an education oriented and psychological perspective to aid in choosing discipline and subsequent career specifically in the field of Psychology.

1.4 Objectives

PART 2: SESSION WISE DELIBERATION

2.1 Inaugural Session:

The inaugural session was graced by honourable Vice chancellor of RGU Prof. Saket Kushwaha, Pro-VC Prof. Amitava Mitra and Registrar Dr. N. T. Rikam and Dr. DharmeshwariLourebam, Head (In-charge) Psychology and Webinar Co-ordinator.

Honourable Vice Chancellor Prof. Saket Kushwaha, emphasised on the quintessence of such programs for dissemination of a cognizance and to acquaint students and educationists with the in-trend curriculum, format and pedagogy of the new education system. He also expressed his ideals on inclusivity in lieu with one pertaining to Hon. PM Narendra Modi wherein he underlined the speciality in the uniqueness of each individual, in the same way as the former intends on the principle of inclusivity for all in the campus of RGU irrespective of students, teaching and non-teaching staffs. Lastly he concluded his note by congratulating the department of Psychology for a successful program and ended his speech on a positive note reminding the participants to overcome each challenges turning them into beautiful possibilities in life.

Pro Vice Chancellor Prof Amitava Mitra stated the relevance of NEP 2020 and how much information couldn't reach the targeted stakeholders specially the students due to the pandemic. Defining Psychology he highlighted various approaches of the subject stating that psychology is the study of mind and behaviour and involves science as well as social sciences and has application in all walks of life, work, family, relationships, sports and industries and emphasized on the importance of mental health practitioners as one of the important underlying reason behind the introduction of NEP. He also highlighted the significance of mother-tongue & the importance to hold on to our cultural roots irrespective of receiving a formal education. The additional benefits of the various exit points available with the introduction of NEP, 2020 were also highlighted.

Registrar Dr. N. T. Rikam expressed how with the increase in mental health crisis the society is facing especially during the covid-19 pandemic, wherein the role of psychologist becomes need of the hour as they play crucial role in the promotion of healthy behaviour and improving quality of life for those who are suffering from mental illness. He too emphasised on the significance of such programs and applauded the initiatives by all other allied departments for conducting the webinars.

The welcome address was delivered by Dr. Dharmeshwari Lourembam, Organizing Coordinator of the Webinar and Head (in-charge) Psychology, RGU. She welcomed the dignitaries and expressed her warm, solicited greetings to the participants for fruitful deliberation and interaction on the topic.

Miss Leeyir Ete, the Master of Ceremony, proposed the Vote of thanks expressing her gratitude on behalf of the entire organizing committee towards the esteemed dignitaries.

Apart from the content delivery on the given topic, he even elaborated on some plausible implications for a way forward.

2.4 Valedictory Session: (None)

The Vote of Thanks was given by Dr. Dharmeshwari Lourembam, Head (in charge) and the Organizing Convenor. It ended on a warm tone set by Miss Leeyir Ete, Co-convenor of the webinar, who acted as the master of the ceremony. The concluding session was witnessed by 100 participants, resource persons and esteemed dignitaries.

Major Takeaways:

3.1. Academic context:

In the present time caused by the global pandemic, with social distancing measures being cautioned by all, it is of utmost importance to maintain continuity in all other aspects especially with regard to academics in order to rule out the same reaching a standstill. In addition to which, with the introduction of the NEP, 2020 during the ongoing times of pandemic, it has only led to a barrier for dissemination of proper information. In lieu of which, the One Day National Webinar was conducted by the Department of Psychology wherein the majority of the participants comprised from the student community.

The technical sessions designed by the resource persons in collaboration with the department were created to facilitate the important format of the pedagogy, the various exit points now available for the entire student community, with special regard to the significance of Psychology as an important underlying reason in both Indian as well as global context.

The sessions were also created to accommodate the psychosocial emotional needs of all but with specific focus on the students, given the uncertainty surrounded by Covid-19, impacting the normalcy of face-to-face classes, reduction in physical-social interactions, exam induced stress and confusion regarding the future. A set of questions were generated by the organizing team to analyse the awareness on NEP, 2020 amongst the participants in the Registration Form. The doubts and concerns associated were tackled by the key subject experts via the PowerPoint presentations as well as Q&A sessions.

- (i) A solution driven aspect with the significance of a more student focused approach was highlighted.
- (ii) In-depth understanding of the NEP, 2020 was disseminated & the students were provided with authentic websites for receiving information with regard to any queries.
- (iii) The resource persons acknowledged the practical ways to incorporate online courses and its significance in developing a good CV, with utilization of proper time management.
- (iv) Recognize, regulate and incorporate a multidisciplinary approach in the future for all round development of students with specific regard to Psychology were also emphasized.
- (v) Students' positive comments and feedback reflected the understanding they gained through the One Day Webinar.

3.2. Research context:

Any uncertainty automatically instills fear or even phobia amongst the people and the associated uncertainty that is increasingly testing psychological resilience of the masses. The pandemic has generated a major jolt in all aspects around the globe. However, one needs to adjust to the new normal and start moving on with life.

Various competitive exams are being conducted and the educational institutions are already out with their new academic calendar to avoid wastage of an academic year of students. Hence, today, more than ever, it becomes crucial for Educationists and Academicians to solicit their support, understanding and knowledge of the subject to help aid the students especially due to the additional chaos and confusion revolving around in the ongoing times of Covid-19.

The webinar covered various significant contemporary issues prevailing for NEP, 2020 and its relevance with regard to Pan-India and on a global level. The findings offered a glimpse of what is brewing in hundreds of millions of students across India.

- (i) Guide researchers to plan prospective longitudinal studies for assessing the impact of NEP, 2020.

- (ii) Secondary research data on the relevance of NEP, 2020 were discussed and the participants were also briefed.
- (iii) The relevance of addressing the various barriers imposed due to the ongoing pandemic also called attention.
- (iv) The impact of NEP, 2020, and its role in providing upper hand to its students in various career domains and exit points were also made aware of.

3.3. Policy making and practice context:

It is no surprise of the insights on the long-term damage of poor career choices, which have been accepted in the field of IO Psychology and HR professionals for decades. Hence, post the end of this unprecedented lockdown, we will need all able bodies to help the world recover in all factors namely health, education, livelihood and economy and be better prepared to cater to the needs of all, especially the torchbearers. The stakeholders involved amongst which the body that constitutes the most significant role to play is the government and the policy makers, to accommodate the new normal and ease the process of adapting to the new normal for the general population. The fear due to the contraction of COVID -19 is on the rise because of the death tolls and global spread however learning and education should not stop. Hence, this webinar also attempted to find the importance of NEP, 2020 in the current times and with the starting of new academic sessions for various levels, which can potentially help policy makers in formulating comprehensive interventions as a future roadmap designed for a crisis situation like this.

- (i) Need for more systematic and longitudinal assessment of current barriers for NEP, 2020, which can help the government in formulating holistic interventions in lieu with ongoing times of pandemic.
- (ii) Investment on quality of teachers which will bring positive changes to the Education system.
- (iii) Policies and training programs must be made more accessible especially for rural states like North-East India.
- (iv) More schemes and investments in ICT will positively influence the quality of education system with more practical knowledge.
