EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Social distancing measures mandated due to Covid-19 pandemic had prevented rehearsals and concerts, cutting musicians off from their audience. In many places, musicians are now coming up with creative ways to close this gap, especially via the Internet through social media. Keeping in view the above context, an online program 'Yuva Sangeet Samaroh' was organized by Ek Bharat Shreshtra Bhrat (EBSB) Unit of Rajiv Gandhi University, Arunachal Pradesh in collaboration with Aligarh Muslim University (AMU), Aligarh, Utter Pradesh under the MHRD, Govt. of India, scheme 'Ek Bharat Shresthta Bharat' (EBSB) on 15th July 2020. EBSB aims to actively enhance interaction between people of diverse cultures living in different States and UT's of India, with the objective of promoting greater mutual understanding and cultural exchange amongst them for achieving social and cultural harmony.

Prof. Tariq Mansoor, Hon'ble Vice Chancellor of Aligarh Muslim University, Aligarh, in his welcome address highlighted the significance of academic and cultural exchange among the universities seated in diverse geographical regions of India. He assured to the Vice Chancellor of Rajiv Gandhi University to extend all possible help in exchange programmes of students and faculties of both the universities to help understand the culture of each other, which is one of the objectives of Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat scheme.

Prof. Saket Kushwaha, Hon'bl Vice Chancellor of the Rajiv Gandhi University in his encouraging address elaborates the activities and objectives of the EBSB mission. He pointed out that the music is the only medium to make bonds between the two cultures.

Dr. Sambhu Prasad, Nodal Officers, EBSB, RGU briefed the audience about the Yuva Sangeet Samaroh while Professor Sampam Tangjang, the convener of the programme welcomed the online gathering where at Mr. Ashok Berman, Joint coordinator was also present. More than 100 participants actively participated in this online programme.

There were a total of six artists; (a) three from RGU namely Mukkir Dai, Jikeshen Pul, Pakngam Lombi and (b) three from AMU namely Haider Saifullah, Nazar Hussain, Anas khan participated as student performers.
