F. No. RGU/REG-52/ADM/21

Dated: 31.03.2024

CIRCULAR

It has come to the attention of the university administration that workers and labourers at various construction sites and projects within the campus are loitering here and there and causing a nuisance. There are also reports of some workers engaging in unlawful activities, leading to feelings of insecurity among campus residents.

Therefore, all firm owners, contractors, and vendors are directed to ensure that their labourers and workers remain confined to their workplaces and are not allowed to move around the campus carelessly.

Furthermore, it should be noted that if any untoward incident occurs or any labourer is involved in such illegal activities, strict legal action will be taken. Hence, all workers must be properly briefed on maintaining decency and discipline while working inside the campus.

The Senior Security Officer has been tasked with monitoring the movement of all such workers and taking action against any those who violate this directive.

This directive has been issued with the approval of the Vice Chancellor.
